

Brotherhood of the Bow

FROM THE PEN OF HOLLYWOOD LEGEND STEVE HAYES ... THE ULTIMATE HISTORY OF THE BOW AND ARROW ... Mans first invention was fire. Fire enabled Homo erectus to cook his food, keep himself warm, ward off predators and light up the night. Mans second invention was the tooltools, like the wheel, significantly changed his life. But wonderful as fire and tools were, they did not guarantee mans survival in a world filled with creatures much larger, stronger, quicker, and more ferocious than any human being. Mans survival as a hunter fell to a third inventionthe bow and arrow. This simple but ingenious weapon lengthened the hunters arm, enabling him to hunt from a distance and in comparative safety. But any weapon that could kill animals, could also kill human beings. Man was quick to discover this, and throughout history, he used the bow and arrow to defeat and kill his enemies. Perhaps more than any other weapon, the bow and arrow was responsible for changing the course of history. Originally published as THE THIRD INVENTION
